About the Production

This is a site-specific, immersive production of a play where you, the audience, will be allocated to a jury, will attend the court, listen to the evidence and then be asked to reach a verdict. Please note that jury selection is random so if you do attend in a group you may be split up.

The Location of the Courtroom

The location of the courtroom is a secret and will only be revealed to you at the performance. You will be given instructions to meet at a location in Tunbridge Wells and you will be taken from there to the courtroom where the play takes place. Once the play concludes you will be close to where you originally met

In order to preserve the secrecy and the surprise for audiences we will be asking you to “keep the secret” of where the courtroom is.

Access to the Courtroom

Upon booking you will be sent details of where you will meet for jury selection before moving to the courtroom. It is essential that you follow these instructions as there will be no direct access to the courtroom itself.

Security

Please note there may be security searches as you enter the courtroom.

Accessibility and Wheelchair Access

Due to the unique nature of the venue, all guests will need to be able to ascend and descend stairs unaided to be able to safely attend a performance. Therefore, we regret that we are not able to accommodate wheelchair users or anyone with a *severely restrictive mobility issue at live performances.

However, a recorded performance will be available for any guests who would like to attend an accessible version of the production at Trinity Theatre.
